

The Role of a Representative

Speaking up for you

Members of Parliament advocate for the people in their community, and make sure community views are heard.

Listening to you

Members of Parliament listen to the community to work out what they need.

Working in the community

Members of Parliament participate in their communities by going to special events, and supporting clubs, organisations and schools.

Working with a political party

If a Member of Parliament belongs to a political party, they will do work set by the political party.

Working in Parliament

Members of Parliament come into Parliament House every sitting week to make law and participate in parliamentary business.
